

The Nordic Viking

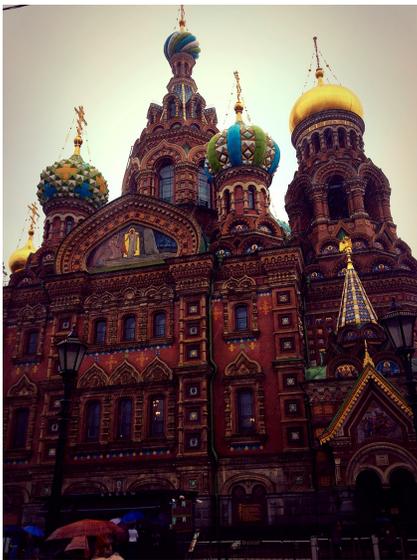

Day 1: Wheels up from the U.S. and touching down in Copenhagen, Denmark to board your Viking vessel.

Day 2: Wake up to go on a quest to meet the Little Mermaid! See the stretch of colorful Denmark homes on the pier with a wonderful boat cruise, and end your day in Tivoli Gardens, an amusement park of wonder right in the heart of the city! Then be promptly dropped off for your sea voyage through the Fjords of the Baltic Sea!

Day 3: The weather on the sea is calm and then the captain shouts "Land Ahoy!" & spots through his binoculars, Warnemunde (Berlin), Germany. Take a bullet train from port to Berlin's city center. Walk in awe of the World War II history amongst you, the Berlin Wall, Checkpoint Charlie, Brandenburg Gate. Then, head back to port for some delicious German cuisine.

Day 4: No land in sight! Enjoy all the fun activities your Viking vessel has to offer and rest those walking feet for more European treasures that lie ahead.

Day 5: Truly, the hidden gem of Europe, Tallinn, Estonia. A quaint town tucked away near the sea that still holds historic customs and winding cobblestone streets that never cease to amaze you.

Day 6: Czar's, Matryoshka Dolls, and vodka, no place other than St. Petersburg, Russia! ZAP! It's as if you boarded a timeship back to communist Russia. The historical buildings and the castles frozen in time for your observance. Don't be surprised if at 9:00 AM a local Russian asks you to take a shot of vodka with him! What happens in Russia, stays in Russia!

Day 7: There is so much to do in Russia that you will need another day to explore it all or that yesterday was a blur... No vodka for you today! Today visit the Church of Spilled Blood, hear about the famous Anastasia, and visit St. Catherine's Palace.

Day 8: Where will we go today fellow Nordic Vikings? Hmm... Helsinki, Finland sounds like a great next destination. Visit Temppeliaukio Church (Rock Church), Senate Square, and take a quick ferry to Suomenlinna Fortress. The piers filled with local fish and sweet pastries are sure to never let you forget Helsinki.

Day 9: Stockholm, Sweden located on an archipelago or a group of islands creates a unique experience of traveling to different parts of the city by short ferries. Visit the Royal Palace, Vasa Museum, and City Hall and sail around the Royal Park of Djurgarden.

Day 10: Nordic Vikings take a rest today. You have been rowing so hard to loot all the jewels of the Baltic Sea that you need to rest your feet. Enjoy today with eating some yummy treats and the relaxation of the open sea. Fill your goblets with some mead (or alcohol) to keep your belly warm.

Day 11: Time to hang up your horned helmet and leave your paddle with the captain. Arrive back in Copenhagen, Denmark and board your flight back to the U.S.

Add On: "Big Ben"

Day 12: Arrive in London, England for some crumpets and bitter black tea. Hopping in your British taxi and zooming through the London streets on the left side of the road! Arrive at your hotel and put on your best London accent and grab some Fish & Chips.

Day 13: Plot to steal the Queen's Jewels today and have Sherlock Holmes on your trail as you flee across the London Bridge to Big Ben and then into Westminster Abbey. Then quick, to Buckingham Palace to steal a smooch from that dashing Prince Henry! With all the excitement, Scotland Yard is closing in, sneak into a Shakespearean play at the Globe theater. Phew! That was a close one!

Day 14: Leave London, England and fly back to the U.S. for some good ol' pizza and hotdogs.
